Topeka Faced With Caring for Homeless

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The problems of caring for several thousand persons left homeless by a tornado which took 16 lives faced city officials today. Most of those whose homes were lost or heavily damaged in the disaster, put up temporarily with friends, relatives and the municipal auditorium. About 70 persons were hospitalized with storm injuries, and at least 61 spent a second night in hospitals. Another 260 persons received outpatient treatment at hospitals.

Fifteen deaths occurred in Topeka—the hardest hit of several towns struck by tornadoes in a brief span Wednesday night. One man was killed about 20 miles northeast of Topeka.

Many persons made offers of temporary housing for the homeless. The Salvation Army and Red Cross operated field kitchens around the city to feed the homeless, and rescue and repair personnel rushed in from other cities.

President Johnson telephoned regrets of the nation and offered aid. Gov. William Avery and officials of the Federal Office of Emergency Planning ordered damage estimates which could lead to federal disaster grants for stricken areas.

Mayor Charles W. Wright Jr. planned to ask nearby cities for equipment and personnel to help clear debris. Some had already sent aid and others offered any thing needed.

Heavy tree trunks, chunks of buildings, and battered cars littered many parts of town even after a full day of cleanup which succeeded in opening all streets to some degree. One city official said the cleanup chore is expected to take at least four weeks.

The tornado was the worst in the city's history. It skipped over a mound at the southwest edge of town shortly before dusk Wednesday and, ranging up to one-half mile wide, it swept a 15-mile path of death and destruction through the city. "The Red Cross said about 2,000 dwelling units were destroyed," said Mayor Wright who figured damage at between $75 million and $100 million. "Topeka's left homeless, ranging from 2,000 to nearly 5,000, but probably is somewhere in between the two extremes. A factual count is not expected to be completed for several days."

Athena Missiles Launched in Utah

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—Two Air Force Athena missiles were launched at Green River, Utah, Thursday night but one of them malfunctioned in flight and landed in a safety area, military spokesmen said. The second missile flew successfully to White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico, the spokesmen said. Athena is used for a study of reentry characteristics of ballistic missiles.

Negroes Keep Marching in Mississippi

COMO, Miss. (AP)—The Meredith "march against fear" straggled along a Mississippi highway today, minus Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose presence has been a magnet to Negroes.

In contrast to the 300-plus who joined the walk Thursday, the sixth day started with 130 walking in narrow file along the shoulder of U.S.-51.

An unseasonable drop in temperatures, a result of Hurricane Alma, brought nippy winds. The thermometer was in the low 60s.

King, promising to return immediately if the demonstration lost any impetus, flew to Chicago Thursday night. Several other leaders also dropped out temporarily.

James H. Meredith, who originated the "march against fear" Sunday and was wounded by birdshot and hospitalized the next day—said in New York he will be on the road again June 16 if his doctor permits. A civil rights group in Baltimore said it would join, too, after a rally Sunday.

"It is my belief from the warm reception received along the road, both in Tennessee and Mississippi, that my walk may have done something to alleviate the heavy burden of fear which rests upon Mississippi Negroes," Meredith said in a statement read to newsmen by a minister.

Airlift to Resume

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The refugee airlift from Cuba, interrupted by Hurricane Alma, resumes Monday.

Normally two plane loads of Cubans—about 200—arrive in Miami every weekday. More than two-thirds of them fly on to other U.S. cities. Some 25,000 have been airlifted from Cuba since Dec. 1.

Heliicopters lifted at least two battalions of American and Vietnamese troops into the fierce action 250 miles north of Saigon. Battlefront reports indicated the Americans may be fighting as many as two regiments—some 1,000 men—of North Vietnamese regulars, although the enemy force earlier was estimated at 500 men.

Heavy fighting was reported continuing late into the day. An American military spokesman said 239 North Vietnamese

Walker Admits He's Out of Race For Governor, Sees Dee Named; Peace, Harmony Reign for GOP

BOISE (AP)—Idaho Republicans opened their 1966 state assembly today amid reports of peace and harmony and a prediction by Gov. Robert E. Smylie that there would be no bloodletting. "No Republican should be needing blood transfusions when it is over," Smylie told newsmen, "contrary to what might happen at Coeur d'Alene."

Coeur d'Alene is where the Democratic State Assembly faces eliminating one to three gubernatorial candidates and deciding how to handle the sales tax as a potential issue.

The Republican assembly's rules committee already has drafted a proposal for endorsing both Smylie and State Sen. Don Samuelson of Sandpoint, the only two Republican gubernatorial candidates in one vote. And platform committee hearings that began Thursday afternoon indicate little controversy in adopting a platform—although any controversy will Saturday yet to develop.

Smylie was asked if the assembly's peaceful prospects indicate the Conservative-Modernist split among Idaho Republicans that erupted at the San Francisco convention is over. He did not say that it was over, but he said he had seen no evidence of such a split at the assembly.

The governor, whose support may be as high as 75 per cent of the delegate endorsement vote, challenged Samuelson's estimate that he has 50 per cent of the vote.

"He sounded a little like Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton before San Francisco," Smylie said.

Smylie said his information was that Samuelson had 20 per cent. Then in the spirit of the assembly, he said he did not want to become involved in a dispute with Samuelson, whom he called "a very capable senator."

Investigation of vandalism at Twin Falls High School more than two weeks ago is still continuing, and Police Chief Frank Barnett said Friday his department is handling the case in the same manner as any other criminal act.

Barnett said he is aware of public opinion concerning the incident, but as far as he is concerned this is a "routine" case. He said he has no intention of dropping the matter.

"It was reported to us as a criminal act and will be handled as such," Barnett said. He said there are other matters about Twin Falls currently under investigation, and the high school investigation must be integrated with them.

U.S. Troops Battling Stubborn Red Unit in Central Highlands of Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. paratroopers battled a stubborn, dark, North Vietnamese force for the fourth day in the central highlands today, while Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government sent 400 Vietnamese riot policemen into the northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue.

Heliicopters lifted at least two battalions of American and Vietnamese troops into the fierce action 250 miles north of Saigon. Battlefront reports indicated the Americans may be fighting as many as two regiments—some 1,000 men—of North Vietnamese regulars, although the enemy force earlier was estimated at 500 men.

COEUR D'ALENE—Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls attorney and former Idaho Democratic Party chairman, admitted at noon Friday that it appeared he didn't have a chance of being endorsed by the Democratic State Assembly as a candidate for governor. "Whitlock and I are out of the right now," Walker said. He explained that the assembly probably will endorse three candidates—Cecil Andrus, William Dee and Charles Herndon.

"Andrus and Herndon will split the vote and Dee will get the Democratic nomination," he predicted. The assembly started out on a noticeably quiet note Friday. Delegates hadn't built themselves up to the screaming and shouting pitch yet.

They gave their most generous applause Friday morning to Sen. Frank Church when he referred to Ralph Harding as the ex-congressman and the next U. S. senator, and when he declared it was time for a change in the Idaho Statehouse. At these points the assembly erupted into shouting and wild applause. The rest of the time it could be described at best only as polite applause.

There was a lot of conferring and arm-twisting going around here and many delegates are thoroughly confused as to normal procedure. "We can't afford divisive maneuvering," said one delegate.

Democratic Party in Idaho, as in past elections plainly prove, cannot hope to achieve victory at the polls. All five aspirants for governor were busily buttonholing delegates, seeking to get favorable response from the more than 20 per cent required for endorsement. Nearly 1,000 Democrats are attending the two-day meeting although only 328 are voting delegates.

There was general agreement only that there weren't enough votes to go around. Beyond that, there was no agreement on the candidates likely to win. Delegates must endorse at least two, and may endorse as many as four.

The voting does not come until Saturday afternoon, after the assembly has agreed on its platform and endorsed candidates for U.S. senator and congressman.

He said he anticipates two full days of hearings, and knows, personally, of 50 or 60 witnesses who want to testify. It appears, the Idaho senator declared, that the weight of feeling is on the side of the recreation area, which would better suit the needs of the district.

Strike Ends, Employees Go Back to Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Union's telegraph wires hummed across the nation again today after some 20,000 striking employees returned to work with a hefty pay raise and a new contract.

"I consider this a very good contract," said President E. L. Hightman of the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers' Union. The employees, who averaged $2.52 per hour under the old contract, won pay increases of 4.5 per cent—a year-for-two-years deal—over the old contract.

The strike, which began last Tuesday midnight and ended at 3:30 p.m. EDT Thursday, crippled Western Union's handling of several hundred thousand telegrams a day.

Launched wire service to government agencies was not affected. The strike, which began last Tuesday midnight and ended at 3:30 p.m. EDT Thursday, crippled Western Union's handling of several hundred thousand telegrams a day.

McNamara Gives Report On Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave Senate committee chairman an optimistic report on the Viet Nam situation at a White House meeting, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., reported today.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, described the session Thursday night as "a real turning of the kind President Johnson holds about twice a year to check on the progress of legislation and to give 'a pep talk.'"

McNamara reported things were going well in Viet Nam. Fulbright said he remarked that the defense secretary is of an optimistic temperament. Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said he heard very little about Viet Nam that was new at the meeting.

Senator Says Recreation Area Favored

COEUR D'ALENE—Sen. Frank Church was preparing to leave here Friday afternoon after speaking at the opening of the Democratic State Assembly, here, and making final arrangements for his Monday and Tuesday in Sun Valley on Sawtooth Recreation Area and National Park bills.

He said he anticipates two full days of hearings, and knows, personally, of 50 or 60 witnesses who want to testify. It appears, the Idaho senator declared, that the weight of feeling is on the side of the recreation area, which would better suit the needs of the district.

Boy Falls in Feed Mixer At Springdale

BURLEY—A 7-year-old Springdale boy was listed in good condition Friday at Cassia Memorial Hospital after falling into a feed-mixer-cooling tower farm six and one-half miles east and three miles south of here Thursday afternoon.

Clark Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Goodwin, received leg injuries from the accident. According to Deputy Sheriff Ray Mitchell, the boy was sitting on the edge of the mixer pushing the grain away from the side. When his brother started the machine, apparently the vibration caused him to slip in and his legs were caught in the mechanism.

Deputy Mitchell, who was called about 4:45 p.m. Thursday, said the shaft of the mixer had to be cut with back saws and to look near the top of the tower to free the child. He was rushed to the Burley Hospital.

Tear Gas Used

PANAMA (AP)—National Guardsmen used tear gas to disperse bands of protesting youths who smashed street lights, turned in false fire alarms and littered the streets of Panama City Thursday night. The disorders have continued for several nights.

The present session of Congress provides an example, if any is needed. As Budget Director Schultz points out, it's not unusual for Congress to appropriate more money than the administration requests. There are indications Congress will appropriate about $3 billion more than President Johnson requested in his proposed budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Perhaps in the last analysis the only real limit to either federal spending or the federal debt is the amount taxpayers and voters will tolerate without objection. Unfortunately, that limit doesn't appear to be close by any standard.

A TAX THOUGHT

B. Shaw once said that though . . . "money is the root of all evil . . . It is not its fault that the people are miserly enough to be fonder of it than their own souls." A good thought while completing your personalized income tax form.

REQUESTS HEARING
POCATELLO (AP) — Leland Stanford Edmo, 31, requested a preliminary hearing Thursday at his arraignment on a charge of murder.

He is accused in connection with the slaying of a Bingham County man last weekend.

He was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Edna Adams. An Idaho Falls attorney, John Forester, was appointed by the court to defend Edmo.

FBI agent Lloyd B. Harold Jr., of Pocatello signed the complaint against Edmo, who is now in custody of federal officers without bail.

Edmo is charged with the murder of Manuel Garcia Jr., 50, of Wapello, who was found beaten and almost nude in an irrigation ditch on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation Sunday. His throat was also cut.

FBI agents questioned Edmo Thursday morning, but would not say if he made a statement.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Presidential advisor W. Averell Harriman predicted Thursday that Americans will stand firm in South Viet Nam as they have throughout the globe since World War II.

Harriman is in Salt Lake City to give the commencement address at the University of Utah tonight.

"Things in the world are going to get worse," he said.

The U.S. ambassador at large acknowledged that South Viet Nam is having a difficult time with democracy. But he said the United States must not allow a difficult time making democracy work after the American Revolution.

Harriman made his first trip to Utah after the turn of the century and his first job was in Idaho surveying a Union Pacific branch line.

His late father, E. H. Harriman, was a principal owner of Union Pacific.

EGYPT SENDS COMMANDOS TO VIET NAM
CAIRO (AP) — The Palestine Liberation organization is sending some of its commandos to learn the Viet Cong's guerrilla tactics for use against Israel, Egypt's semi-official Mideast News Agency reports.

Ahmed Shukairy, head of the organization, was quoted as saying the Palestinians would "first by the side of the South Vietnamese liberation forces in their struggle against American imperialism."

"He said the commandos would study guerrilla warfare from the Viet Cong 'to apply it later in the inevitable war for the liberation of Palestine.'"

The Palestine Liberation organization was created by the Arab heads of state in 1964 to organize and train former Palestinians for the "liberation of the homeland."

It has received some propaganda and military support from Communist China recently, but it is considered largely under Egyptian control.

Burley Aerospace Days Have Entertainers

BURLEY — Stars of the entertainment world will attend the Second Annual Idaho Aerospace Day-Celebration in Burley July 29-31, according to George Forschler, president of the Idaho Air Force Association.

They are Robert Lansing, who recently starred in the TV series, "12 O'Clock High" as Brig. Gen. Frank Savage, and Joe Higgins, who was featured as "Nin" in the Rifleman series and co-starred in "A Farewell to Arms" and "The Longest Day."

Both these entertainers are active in the National Air Force Association. James Stewart, also an active member of the association, has written Forschler that unforeseen circumstances may make it impossible for him to attend.

Lansing and Higgins will be here in time to participate in the big opening day parade on July 29, which will be led by the famous Black Hills Air Force Band and then remain here to help entertain at the public concert by the band which closes the event the evening of July 31.

Lansing turned in the theater and has achieved every actor's dream of successful appearances on Broadway. He did important TV shows on both coasts including "Bonanza," "Fall Man," "G. E. Theater," "The Zone" and others.

Higgins has been featured in scores of TV shows after winning national acclaim for his stage performance in the role of "Finnian's Rainbow." He has appeared with "Death Valley Days," "My Three Sons," "Slattery's People," "Twilight Zone" and others.

Boy Scout Council Favors Sawtooth Recreation Area

Snake River Area Council President Robert A. Erkins announced Friday that the council will present a statement Tuesday to the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in Sun Valley, supporting the proposal to establish a national recreation area in the Sawtooth region.

The council executive board approved the following statement for presentation by John Bertie, who is president of the council:

"The Snake River Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America serves boys and young men in the Magic and Wood River valleys of Southcentral Idaho. The council board, professional staff, and 2,300 volunteer leaders now work with 6,070 young people in this eight-county area, and expect to serve 10,000 youths by 1970.

"The executive board strongly supported a proposal to reclassify the Sawtooth Primitive Area as a Wilderness Area at the hearing held in 1963. Our position concerning the Sawtooth Mountain high country is unchanged. This high, rugged, scenic land is used by boys of the Snake River Area Council as horse and back packing country.

"Designation and management of this land as wilderness will insure that it will not be opened for other than travel by foot or horse. This, in our opinion, is good. It provides the proper challenge and incentive for young folks to travel in it and to understand and appreciate the land by walking and riding through it.

"We are convinced that such experiences contribute greatly to the physical and spiritual well-being of our youth.

"Senate Bill-3295—an act to establish the Sawtooth National Recreation Area—provides that the Sawtooth Primitive Area will be a wilderness. We concur in this.

"Also, as we understand, this bill does not preclude establishment and operation of organized youth camps. The Scout Council operates a camp for boys at Cape Horn, located partly on National Forest land.

"Though this facility is removed a few miles from the area being considered for a National Recreation Area or a National Park, there are presently four other youth camps established by other organizations on forest lands within the area under consideration, which provide outdoor experiences for many young people.

"In the opinion of the executive board I represent, the opportunities for our youth to have guidance, to learn about, and to appreciate nature and the importance of our natural resources by living and studying in an environment such as this should be expanded.

"If the Sawtooth country is managed as a National Recreation Area, we believe the youth organization camp program can and will be accommodated, but we seriously question if this particular type of recreational activity would be provided for if a National Park were established.

"For these specific reasons and because of a general belief that Idaho and the nation will be better served if the Sawtooth country is managed as a National Recreation Area rather than a National Park, the Executive Board of the Snake River Area Council endorses Senate Bill 3295 to establish a Sawtooth National Recreation Area, and oppose Senate Bill 3294 to establish a Sawtooth National Park."

"Those with 10% more training average 50% more income"

Texas Youth, 13, Wins National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert A. Wake, 13, of Houston, Tex., spelled a word "I never heard of" Thursday and won the 39th annual National Spelling Bee.

The blond, crew-cut youth became the champion by spelling "ratoon" — a shoot from a perennial plant — after puzzling over it for several, suspense-filled moments.

"I guessed," he said later, "I never heard of a 'ratoon'." The runner-up was Beth Sherrill, 14, of Lucy, Tenn., who tripped up on "sachem," an Indian chief. She spelled it "sachem."

Bob spelled "sachem" correctly and went on to win with "ratoon." His prizes are $1,000 cash, which he said will be put away for college, a trip to New York City, a trophy, and a ruby-set medal.

He won $300. Third prize of $250 went to Sonya Gilliam, 13, of Lubbock, Tex., who went out by spelling mummoo, a long, loose-fitting dress, as "mumu."

The competition is sponsored by 15 Scripps-Howard papers and 65 other daily and Sunday papers.

A total of 71 contestants, who won local competitions in which six million school children participated, came to Washington for the national finale. They began Wednesday morning.

The contestants' ages ranged from 11 through 14. Thirty contestants survived the first day but their ranks thinned rapidly as the words became progressively harder.

Thursday, while the top winner attributed his success on the key word to a good guess, his mother, Esther Wake, said he is a natural speller, who could read by the age of 3 and studied spelling rules and difficult words an hour a day in preparation for the competition.

"My wonderful slave-driving mother kept me practicing," Bob said in an interview after spelling mummoo, a long, loose-fitting dress, as "mumu."

He previously has served 10 years in the Emerson Ward bishopric and three years in the Minidoka LDS Stake High Council. He has taught vocational agriculture in area high schools for several years and has been a resident of the Emerson district and Ponderosa area 47 years. Bishop Merrill announced that ward clerks will include Thomas Scott, who has served this capacity the past five years, and assistant Golden Highway ward clerk, Ned Moon, former bishop of the Heyburn LDS second ward.

Firemen End 3-Day Strike In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A late hour agreement between the city and the union Thursday night ended a three-day strike by more than 500 Atlanta firemen.

A jubilant fire fighter said, "It's a thumbs up situation, all systems go."

The firemen were returning to work immediately today as soon as they were notified of the agreement. The settlement was reached in Mayor Ivan Allen's City Hall office after a frustrating day of messages between the city and the Atlanta Fire Fighters Union Independent.

Relieved city officials no longer had to face a weekend of fire protection provided by 177 regular firemen and about 450 employees from other city departments.

The city agreed to three concessions asked by the union, one of them grudgingly. A joint statement issued by Allen and Capt. J. I. Martin and Capt. Leonard Syron of the Firemen's Union after the agreement was reached listed the points:

1. "Mayor Allen has instructed Harry L. Bowden, city attorney, to dismiss all pending court action arising out of the strike."
2. "The city has further agreed that there will be no reprisals, penalties or punishments for those persons involved in the strike."
3. "The mayor will call a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Atlanta at the earliest practical date and will recommend to the board... that they approve a resolution authorizing the mayor to agree with representatives of the union on a mediator who will study all of the issues involved in the dispute between the city of Atlanta and the firemen."

8 Sets of Twins Attend Same School

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Eight sets of twins went to their last day of sixth grade today.

What made this so unusual was that they all attended the same school—Buena Vista—and all eight pairs have been in the same school since they began kindergarten nearly seven years ago.

What's more, seven of the eight sets will attend the same junior high school next fall. School officials said from the start teachers made it a policy to split the twins so that at no time were both members of one set in the same classroom.

The 12-year-old twins are: Lawrie and Wendy Adger, Ronald and Darryl Jackson, Rosemary and Theresa Johnson, Dana and Deryl Leavenworth, Tom and John McKee, Debbie and David Parker, Paula and Paulotto Trumbo, and Jim and John Wright.

"Dr. Wilson Gately, a mathematics professor at Colorado College, said the probability of eight sets of twins attending the same elementary school for the entire seven years figured out to be 1 in 1 trillion."

Richfield Pair Attends Event

RICHFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelley attended graduation exercises at the College of Idaho where their son, Melvin Pelley, was graduated with honors, receiving a degree in business administration and accounting.

He was one of four students receiving the Tom E. Shearer award for outstanding leadership and service. His name appears in "Who's Who for American Colleges and Universities," and he was named to Scarab for the third time in his college career.

He has been employed since January with Burns and Swanson Accounting Co., Caldwell.

Mrs. Marie Burton, Shoshone, accompanied the Pelleys and attended the college exercises where her niece, Marilyn Devaney, Gooding and Boise, was a member of the graduating class.

Packaging, Food Bills Are Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a packaging bill and the House a "Food for Freedom" measure before recessing for a long weekend.

The Senate's 72-0 approval Thursday of the fair-packaging and labeling bill marked a milestone in the six-year fight led by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to make it easier for housewives and other shoppers to compare the prices of competing brands.

The legislation would give the federal government authority to regulate the weights and quantities in which a product can be marketed.

However, before the government could impose controls on package sizes, the manufacturer would have to be given a chance to adopt voluntary standards acceptable to the secretary of commerce.

The House is expected to go along with the Senate version of the bill later this session.

The House's food bill also included a million of sorts. For the first time it would make all crops eligible, not just those labeled surplus. The measure now goes to the Senate.

It approved by a 330-20 vote, the $6.6 million, two-year program emphasized aid for those nations willing to do more to solve their own agricultural problems.

Two Youths Escape From Utah Officers

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Law enforcement agencies throughout Utah continued the search today for two 19-year-old prisoners who escaped from Salt Lake County sheriff's deputies Thursday morning.

Deputies said Steven Clark and Joseph Palmasano, both Salt Lake City, took pistols and a patrol car near the University of Utah Medical Center after a dental examination.

The patrol car later was found in a Salt Lake City residential area.

Little more than three hours later, a small Ogden market was held up by two young men answering the description of the escapees.

Utah Highway Patrol, county sheriff and city police department in Utah aided in the search.

Police said they were considered "extremely dangerous."

Early today Utah Highway Patrolmen had road blocks established on all major highways leading from Salt Lake City.

The Salt Lake County Sheriff's Office has offered a $200 reward for information leading to the fugitives' capture.

Palmasano was being held on a robbery charge and Clark was being held for Summit County authorities.

Since the escape, Clark and Palmasano have been charged with escape, assault with a deadly weapon, robbery and grand larceny. Their bail when captured is at $30,000.

What's new about Anhydrous Ammonia?

Knowing how much Anhydrous Ammonia is actually applied, that's what's new!

Anhydrous ammonia is excellent for side-dressing crops. It's fast-acting, but also long-lasting (it supplies nitrogen all during the growing season). But you can't see anhydrous ammonia after application, like you can dry fertilizer.

The Soil Fertility Specialists at United States Steel have changed that. Special precision scales, installed on monorail tracks are used to weigh every ammonia tank before and after each application — right in the field so the farmer can see to the pound how much anhydrous ammonia is applied. These scales have a 0 to 6,000 pound capacity and are accurate to plus or minus 0.2%. These unusually-accurate scales are checked and certified by state officials and are inspected frequently by United States Steel and qualified scale experts.

Need additional reasons to call on United States Steel for anhydrous ammonia application? Here are a few: (1) Modern application equipment. (2) Expert application in irrigation water. (3) Tissue testing to see if nutrients are deficient. (4) Custom application by men who take enough time to do the job right. (5) Swift service — radio dispatched equipment. (6) Program planning and personalized attention. (7) Follow-through to help you get the results you want.

North Side Delivery on Water Is Cut

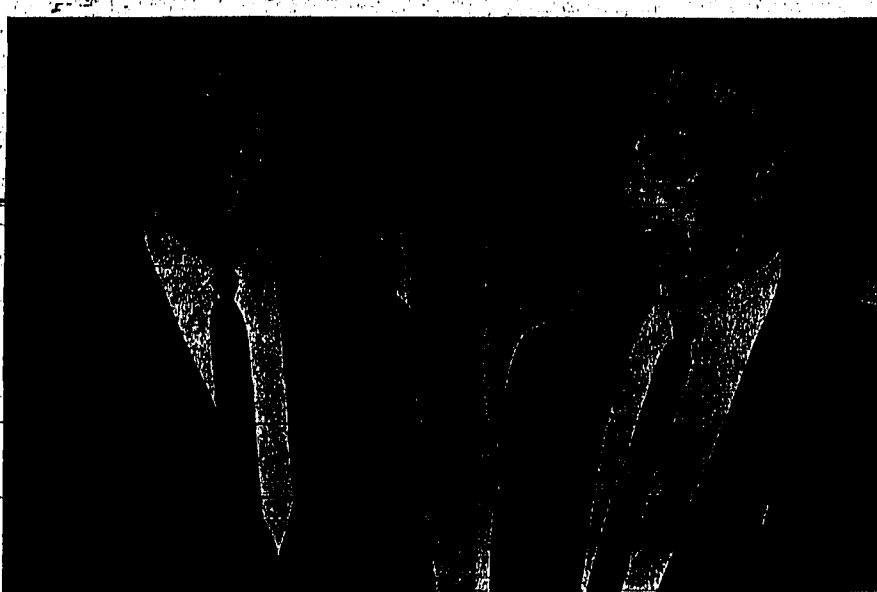

JEROME — Water deliveries to the North Side Canal project were reduced to 100 per cent effective today, Douglas Finkelnburg, manager, reports.

The 100 per cent delivery will be effective until about July 1 at which time it is expected to restore deliveries to 120 per cent.

The natural flow of Snake River has been sufficient enough to fill the company's earlier decreed rights the past month and prevented the need for large demands on the stored water.

It now appears that a sufficient water supply is available for normal deliveries through September, but prospects for any quantity of carryover storage are quite remote at this time.

Demand for water on the North Side tract has decreased the past week and as a conservation measure, the company directors have decided to cut back on deliveries the next few weeks, Finkelnburg explained.

ASC Speaker Outlines Situation and Expansion of Agriculture at Meeting

The district meeting of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee was held recently with guest speaker James B. Dyess, Northwest area director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, giving a talk on "The present situation of agriculture and what the future has in store for us with expansion in world trade and especially in wheat."

Dyess remarked that we have just come out of a period with surplus in food for the first time in the 1960's. He said that the 1960's have reduced surplus to manageable proportions and raised annual farm income from $10,000,000,000 to nearly $15,000,000,000 in 1965.

In Dyess' talk he said that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said recently that fair prices and food abundance go together.

"Farm prices must be fair and adequate," the secretary said at a news conference. "If not, our abundant food supply will be threatened."

Today, even with recent increases, the American people spend less of their income to pay for food than ever before — about 18.3 per cent in 1965, as compared with 26 per cent in 1947-49 — and yet they eat better and at lower cost than do any other people in the world.

"But while the consumer has benefited, the farmer has lagged behind. Although farm prices have gained steadily in the 1960's, last year — 1965 — they still were nine per cent lower than in 1947-49, and 14 per cent lower than in 1952."

The breadwinner worked 50 hours during 1947-49 in order to buy one month's supply of farm food for the average family. Today, he works only 38 hours to feed his family.

The consumer today can buy a third again as much steak, four times as much poultry, twice as much butter, eggs and milk with one hour of work as he could in 1939.

A typical European consumer has to work four times as long to buy the same amount of beef, five times as long to buy an equivalent amount of ham, three times as long for the same amount of cheese and eggs as a typical American consumer.

"These bargains for the consumer were made possible in substantial part by inadequate returns to the farmer. In other words, the American farmer's income is only two-thirds that of the urban worker — has long been subsidizing his wealthier city cousin."

This cannot continue forever. And it would not be in the best interest of the consumer, who has a stake in a healthy national economy, and in moderately priced food abundance, for it to continue indefinitely.

The American farmer is entitled to a 100 per cent share in our prosperous economy. If he doesn't get it, if he cannot give his family the same advantages that other families enjoy, he is sure to look elsewhere for a better-paying job.

We are witnessing this trend in dairying today. Milk production so far this year is five per cent below year-ago levels and the number of dairy farmers who are leaving the business has nearly doubled in four years.

True, farming is a way of life. But it is a business too, and more and more farmers are insisting that their business return them a decent living.

Consumers ought not to be shocked when farmers ask that they be paid what they actually earn. After all, consumer after-tax income was up eight per cent in the first quarter of 1966 over the first quarter of 1965.

If the farmer does not receive a fair return, if he is forced to give up farming, and our abundant food supplies decline, the consumer then will have to pay much higher prices down the road — in the future.

Secretary Freeman said the American farmer wants stable prices and adequate prices, and he earns both of them.

The cost of food should not be considered an item of family living expense that will continue to diminish, as it has in the past.

We enjoy food variety, quality and abundance that are beyond the reach of most other people in the world. Our farmers ask only for a fair return for the products of their skill and labor.

Cassia Lambs To Be Sold In Ring

BURLEY — At a recent meeting of the Cassia Livestock Marketing Association directors and the Cassia Livestock Commission Co., it was agreed to market the association lambs through the sale ring.

The method is aimed at creating a better lamb market through increased numbers at the sale.

All pool lambs will be marketed at the respective owners' farm on Wednesday before the Thursday sale. This will assure top quality lambs only to be sold through this system. Lambs not ready for market can then be kept home for further feeding to finish.

Each individual's lambs will be sold in his name with the designation that they are Association lambs. Members who wish to sell their lambs should notify J. W. Matthews, manager, or the director of the district prior to 5 p.m. on Tuesday.

The association and the Livestock Commission Co. are joining in this effort to create a better local sheep market and an increased interest in lamb and wool production in Cassia County, Matthews said.

Precautions Urged for Chemicals

SHOSHONE — Farmers of Lincoln County are urged to follow certain measures of precaution when using agricultural chemicals this summer. Tom Jones, Pet Milk Co. Buhl, and president of the IACCC Region III committee, announces through the Lincoln County Extension Agent, Ivan Hopkins, here.

They include reading the label, making sure the label is current for the chemical being used; destroying old chemicals by breaking and burying containers, and keeping accurate records of all agricultural chemicals used on the farm as well as the date and the substance being used.

The Idaho ACCC is a recently organized group of chemical suppliers, farm organizations, seed dealers, and food processors to promote and coordinate safe use of agricultural chemicals throughout Idaho and Magic Valley.

Specialist to Talk on Beef

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — A widely-known specialist on beef cattle reproduction will be on the University of Idaho campus July 8 to address a meeting of cattlemen in Idaho and other Northwest states.

The specialist is Dr. Jan Bonoma, head of the animal science department at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. He will discuss his method of appraising an animal's reproductive efficiency by sight alone.

The meeting is sponsored by the American Hereford Association in cooperation with the Idaho Hereford Association and the University of Idaho Animal Science Department.

New Branding Process Used In Springdale

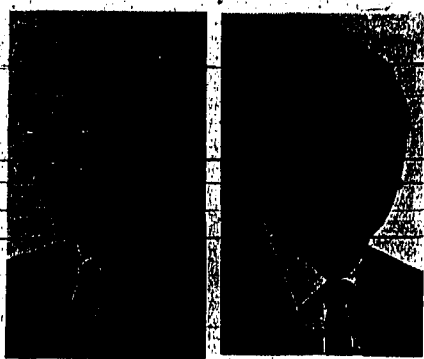

SPRINGDALE — The new super-cold painless branding process was used to brand the calves on the range at the corral of James Bronson near Nat last week.

The new process is named "cryo-branding," after the cryogenic, or cold-producing, materials used to super-cool the branding iron. A copper branding iron was used with dry ice solid carbon dioxide in alcohol.

Those assisting in the work were Robert M. Bronson, J. H. Bronson, E. R. Kelsey, Wesley Baker, Philip Baker, Robert D. Bronson, Floyd J. Judd and Timothy Judd.

Grandfather Steiner, Burley, sprayed the cattle. Timothy Judd, Boise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Judd, was thrown from his horse while helping to gather the calves. He was released from Cassia Memorial Hospital after undergoing treatment for a broken collarbone, and returned to his home with his parents.

ROMAN STIEBER, two long time employees of Asgrow Seed Co. will be promoted to new positions effective July 1. Yurk will go to Orange, Conn., while Stieber will take over Yurk's former position at the Filer branch.

Two Asgrow Officials in Filer Gain Advancement

Two officials of the Asgrow Seed Co., with headquarters in University of Idaho and Kathy Filer, will be promoted in the company effective July 1. It is announced by George F. Smith, general traffic manager, and Cor Visser, vegetable seed production manager for the company.

The two are Arno Yurk, who has been shipping department supervisor at Filer for the past seven years, and Roman Stieber, who will move up to Yurk's post. Yurk is going to Orange, Conn., where he will take over the position of supervisor for the shipment of peas, beans and corn. He will be assistant in the general office traffic department.

Mr. and Mrs. Yurk are parents of six children. Arno Jr. and Kathy are students at the University of Idaho and Kathy Filer, will be promoted in the company effective July 1. It is announced by George F. Smith, general traffic manager, and Cor Visser, vegetable seed production manager for the company.

Stieber's appointment was announced by Visser and Robert T. Moldenhauer, resident branch manager. He joined the firm in Sheboygan, Wis., in 1945, transferred to Fremont and from there to Filer. A son, Thomas, is a sophomore at Twin Falls High School.

Both men were in the service during World War II. Yurk was in the Navy in the European theater while Stieber was with the Air Force.

CONTROL ALFALFA WEEVIL

Get top performance at low cost...and no residue problems

Malathion provides the most effective control of alfalfa weevil—with none of the problems encountered with other commonly used insecticides.

The preferred practice for weevil control now recommended by authorities is to treat the larvae with malathion. By spraying when the larval counts are high, good control of weevil can be obtained with a single application.

When you use malathion for alfalfa weevil larvae in accordance with label directions, you enjoy exceptional freedom from insecticide hazards. There is no danger from drift...no worry about residues on hay, milk, milk products or meat.

NO WAITING PERIOD. A recent USDA registration has raised the tolerance level of malathion to 135 ppm on hay and grass crops and allows harvesting or grazing on the day of application.

This important advantage along with malathion's low toxicity to workers—and small cost per acre—has made malathion the insecticide of choice for alfalfa weevil programs.

ALSO CONTROLS APHIDS and other forage pests including lygus, grasshoppers, leafhoppers and armyworms. Consult local agricultural authorities for information on timing of application.

Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

SLICK CONTAINERS, some planted and some not planted, are housed in the greenhouse of the Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly, as a part of the study now under way on deep plowing projects in connection with improving "slick spot" soils in this area. Warren W. Rasmussen, research soil scientist of the center's soil and water conservation research division, is in charge of the work. Here he inspects the containers. The first two containers from the left had seed planted in alkali slick spot soil, mixed to simulate deep plowing without leaching. The third container was leached with 12 inches of water before planting and the fourth, not planted, was leached with 24 inches of water. The fifth and sixth containers, with the seeds planted in non-alkali soil, show much more luxuriant growth. Success of this research could result in turning 100,000 acres of slick soil into productive areas. (Times-News photo)

A. S. DRANSFIELD, supervisory soil scientist, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, inspects a dense, strongly prismatic clay soil. It is very slowly permeable to water movement and roots penetrate only along the cleavage surfaces. (Bureau of Reclamation photo)

Rural Families Eligible For Opportunity Loans

JEROME—Many rural families earn so little they don't have the bare necessities of life. Economic opportunity loans can mean a new start in life for many of these people who need to increase their incomes through their own efforts.

According to Paul Sullivan, Jerome County supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, this program enables farmers with small incomes to borrow up to $2,500 to finance enterprises and pay for equipment, machinery and buildings.

Families with limited assets, living in communities of less than 5,500 population, can also borrow funds to establish services. However, non-farm enterprises must fulfill a need for a business or service not presently being met in the area.

Both enterprises—farming and non-farming—must contribute to an improvement in the family's income and financial situation. Loan funds and operating plans for new business ventures will be supervised by the Farmers Home Administration. Repayment terms will range up to 15 years with 4 1/2 per cent interest.

More than 300 different types of small business and service enterprises have been financed. They range all the way from a little road-side stand to welding shops, TV repair, home bakery and cake decorating shops, shoe repair shops and many others.

A widow with eight small children received a $500 loan to buy an electric sewing machine. An expert seamstress, she is busy making clothes for other people and has more than doubled her income.

This is just one example. There are many others where a small loan has made the difference between abject poverty and a decent standard of living. Economic opportunity loans de-

BOISE (AP)—Appointment of George E. Wood of Walsburg, Wash., as program coordinator of the Western Wheat Associates was announced by Harold West, Idaho Wheat Commissioner.

Western Wheat is sponsored by wheat commissions and wheat grower organizations of Idaho, Oregon and Washington to promote exports to Far East markets, West said.

He said Wood, who will work with foreign agricultural service officials and the U.S. Agriculture Department, is to assure duties in Washington, D.C., July 1.

Deep-Plowing Said Answer To Slick Spot

of the tank leaching treatments correlated well with the results from the field experiments.

"We believe that the laboratory and greenhouse studies may provide a reliable and economical means of evaluating deep plowing and other profile-modification treatments on problem soils," he said.

He added that four or five distinct problem soil complex associations occur in the study area. The mixed profiles of slick spot soils in each complex will be subjected to the several leaching and cropping treatments.

The study takes into consideration the effect of soil profile mixing in small diameter fiberglass tanks designed to contain mixed soils of approximately the same depth as deep plowing in the field tests.

"Depth of mixing in the initial experiments will be a single intermediate depth as in the field experiments. Depth of profile mixing may be included as a variable in future experiments," he said.

Success of the deep plowing formula would result in thousands of acres of land being turned over to beneficial use. It is one of many projects of benefit to agriculture which are now under study at the research center.

Rasmussen first became associated in study of "slick spot" areas in Oregon. He has been at the research center here for nearly two years.

As it stands now these unproductive areas which early pioneers mentioned in their journals as "dead land wherein no life appears" may end up producing crops like neighboring normal land. It is all part of a research program to provide needed food for a fast growing world.

Twin Falls FFA Students To Participate in Contest

Nine FFA students from Twin Falls High School and Jack Lawrence, their vocational agricultural instructor, will participate in the annual state FFA judging contests being held at the University of Idaho, June 15-17.

Professor H. A. Winner, head of the university's department of agricultural education, expects most of the 70 Idaho FFA chapters will enter teams in the contests. Competition will begin with livestock judging at 8:30 a.m. June 15.

Dairy products, farm mechanics, dairy cattle, poultry, crop identification and meats classes will also be judged during the meet.

Teams winning the livestock and meat judging contests will be eligible to enter the national FFA competition at Kansas City next fall, Winner said.

State winners in poultry, dairy products and dairy cattle earn trips to Waterloo, Iowa, for the nationals in those events.

Top award of the state contests is the high team trophy, which goes to the chapter whose teams make the best overall score in the seven judging contests. Twin Falls High School won this title last year.

Three team prizes and three high individual awards are made in each event. All awards will be presented June 17 at an assembly which concludes the meeting.

The state FFA judging contests are arranged each year by Professor Winner and his staff in cooperation with the state department of agricultural education. College of agriculture faculty members serve as official judges.

"Tell you how you benefit by spreading facts about Land Bank loans."

"The more people who know that the Federal Land Bank is strictly farmer-owned and operated, the better your own chances of success. Farmers instinctively prefer to deal with other local farmers. And more of them would get their long-term loans from the Land Bank if they realized all the advantages. Like low cost, voice in management, and share in earnings. The more member-borrowers we have in our own bank, the greater guarantee of low-cost loans, share in earnings, freedom from penalties on prepayments. All these benefits (and more) apply to the Land Bank loans you have today—or the ones you may need tomorrow. We want all the farmers here to succeed. The wider the success, the better the community. Spread the facts the Land Bank is the farmer's bank. Its one aim is to help farmers with long-term credit service—with a variety of loan plans geared to individual income."

Cowboys' Schramm and Chiefs' Hunt Credited With New AFL-NFL Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — The dove of peace in the pro football war limped home on weary wings Thursday after shadowing Tex Schramm and Lamar Hunt for 10 weeks. Peace finally was declared Wednesday night between the National Football League and the American Football League after a series of cloak-and-dagger meetings between Schramm, general manager of Dallas in the NFL, and Hunt, owner of Kansas City of the AFL. Informal peace feelers had been exchanged for several years between various owners in both leagues. Actually, Hunt had talked to the late Bert Bell, NFL commissioner, in 1959 before the AFL ever got off the ground. At various times there had been talks of a common draft between Ralph Wilson, Buffalo owner, and various NFL clubs. Former AFL Commissioner Joe Foss often spoke out in favor of a common draft. There never was a formal reply from the NFL.

Both Loops Win War, But NFL Is Top Dog

NEW YORK (AP) — Who won the war—the National Football League or the American Football League? Both of them, and again, neither. Some wag commented that the AFL generals won the battle but its politicians lost the peace. The NFL definitely came out of it the top dog. The mammoth new circuit, jelling in 1970, will be called the National League. The NFL's boss, Pete Rozelle, calls all the shots, effective at once.

The AFL won a victory in that it finally got the NFL to admit that the AFL existed. "We were conscious of them all the time," Rozelle acknowledged, a little grudgingly. Earlier, he and his NFL cohorts couldn't see the younger league with any glasses.

The AFL no longer is from the other side of the tracks. It came out of the deal on equal terms. But the price was dear. The AFL must pay a heavy indemnity for its early sins. In cold figures, this is $18 million over a period of 30 years plus relinquishing the rights to the money from the projected new franchises which may add another $15 or $20 million to NFL coffers.

"Part of this money goes to the New York Giants and San Francisco 49ers as payment for encroachment on their territory," Rozelle said. "The AFL must pay because in taking them in we have added value to their franchises."

Another costly price was sacrifice of the plucky fighters to the NFL who wanted to fight the NFL to the finish. These include Commissioner Al Davis, probably now looking for another job, and perhaps Sonny Werblin of the Jets and Bud Adams of Houston.

"We had them over the barrel and let them get away," growled one of the AFL dissidents. The Hawks in the AFL were ready to start raiding NFL rosters. The NFL knew this. The NFL who wanted to fight the NFL to the finish, even if it meant recognition.

Lamar Hunt of the AFL, Kansas City Chiefs, and Tex Schramm of the NFL, Dallas Cowboys, main instruments in the peace pact, both insist that football and the fans profit from the merger.

"They won't admit the players do. Gone are the $400,000 and $450,000 bonus contracts given to players such as Joe Namath and Sonny Anderson."

Now it's between the clubs and the players. There's no outside competition forcing up the market. It's the owners' market. Economically, it's a victory for the club owners. Both leagues.

But the fans? It's questionable. The New York Business Bureau of New York has a placard on most buses and subways which show two lemonade stands. "Lemonade—five cents," says one stand in childish scrawl. "Lemonade—with cherry—five cents," reads another. When there's competition, the message says, people will do things better.

Now there is just one lemonade stand — without a cherry.

Braves Take Early Lead to Rip Mets 8-4

NEW YORK (AP) — Mack Jones' three-run homer high-lighted Atlanta's five-run first inning and led the Braves past the New York Mets 8-4 Thursday night for their sixth straight victory.

The Braves opened the scoring in the first when Felipe Alou singled home Woody Woodward, who had walked and moved to third. Hank Aaron's single, Jones then followed with his seventh homer.

The fifth run came when Rico Carty singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and scored when Felix Milfan singled to center and Ed Kranepool fumbled the ball for an error.

Carty hit his first homer of the year in the sixth. The Braves also scored single runs in the second and eighth. Atlanta 8, New York 4. 100 000 000—2 1 1. Cloninger and Carty; Hamilton, Arrigo (2), Hepler (3), Selma (7), Eilers (9) and Groat; Stephenson (8). W—Cloninger 6-6. L—Hamilton 4-6.

Davenport's Double Lets Giants Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Davenport's 11th-inning double gave the Houston Astros a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants Thursday night.

Willie McCovey opened the Giants' 11th with a single against Jim Owens, Houston's third pitcher. After Jim Hart sacrificed, Tom Haller was walked intentionally.

Then Davenport doubled to left, scoring McCovey and Haller with the tie-breaking runs. Singles by Sonny Jackson, Jim Gentile and Rusty Staub clipped Giants' starter Ron Herbel for Houston's first-inning run.

Smylie Wants Idaho in River Pact

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie expressed renewed hope Wednesday Idaho can eventually join Washington and Oregon in the Columbia River Compact.

"Smylie was told that the Washington Sportsmen's Council has decided to ask Gov. Dan Evans to initiate legislation which would permit Idaho's entry."

"I'm hopeful that we can secure admission to the compact, agency that administers fishery for the entire Columbia system," he said.

The governor was also told that the council would ask Oregon to declare steelhead a game fish.

He said he had made the request "almost times without number."

Twins Strike In Seventh to Crush A's 9-4

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins smashed a record-tying five home runs in the seventh inning Thursday, riding the late explosion to a 9-4 victory over Kansas City.

The Twins just missed breaking the major league record for most home runs in an inning when Jimmie Hall came within about two feet of clearing the fence as Harmon Killebrew crashed the fifth homer of the frame.

Minnesota trailed 4-3 going into the big inning after Killebrew's two-run homer in the sixth. The Twins back into contention.

Paul Rollins started the barrage, connecting off A's starter Jim (Catfish) Hunter after Earl Battey walked. That put the Twins ahead 5-4.

Zoilo Versalles followed with another homer, finishing Hunter and bringing on Paul Lindblad. Sandy Valdespino went out, but Tony Oliva tagged Lindblad for the third homer of the rally. Then Don Mincher followed Oliva with the fourth.

John Wynter followed Lindblad and was greeted by Killebrew's second homer of the game. Hall then narrowly missed.

The five homers in one inning was an American League record. Three National League teams have accomplished the feat. The last time by San Francisco on Aug. 23, 1961.

Kansas City 400 000 000-4 7 1 Minnesota 000 012 000-9 13 0 Hunter, Lindblad (7), Wyatt (7) and Roof; Pascual, Siebler (1), Cimino (6), Worthington (8) and Battey. W—Cimino 1-1. L—Hunter 4-5.

Home runs—Minnesota, Killebrew 2 (11), Rollins (2), Versalles (5), Oliva (14), Mincher (6).

The scene shifted to New York and the Warwick Hotel the weekend of May 30-31. Some owners were in New York, others were contacted by Rozelle by phone. At all times, Schramm was the only direct contact with the AFL through Hunt.

On May 31 Hunt was told that there was complete agreement in the AFL to the merger. This was relayed to Hunt by Schramm in a lengthy session at Schramm's home in Dallas.

Monday, June 6, was a day on the telephone for all concerned: Rozelle to his owners, Hunt to the AFL's special committee that included Ralph Wilson of Buffalo and Billy Sullivan of Boston.

The first direct contact between Rozelle and the AFL came Tuesday in a Washington hotel. Rozelle took the New York shuttle flight to Washington. Schramm flew in from Dallas.

and Bill Campbell, were eliminated in the fourth round over Carnoustie's 7,059-yard, par 71 course, Anthony, 20, of Andalusia, Ala., in one of the big upsets of the tournament, ousted the 43-year-old Campbell on the 10th hole. Campbell had overcome a three-hole deficit, forcing the match to the 10th, but then three-putted, giving the match to Anthony.

Andrew Phillips, a 17-year-old English schoolboy, rallied after being three holes down to defeat Hyndman, a 58-year-old Philadelphia insurance executive, 1 up.

With the match even on the 18th, Hyndman knocked his drive out of bounds and took a 4. Phillips sank a three-foot putt for a match winning 5.

McCallum, a 38-year-old real estate man from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., eliminated Donald Marr of England by sinking a 15-foot birdie putt at the 10th.

McCallum had led the Englishman 2-up after nine holes but made a bad drive to lose the 10th, landed in a bush at the 13th and went 1-down at the 17th when he sent his second shot into a bunker. Marr had bunker trouble on the 18th and the match was even.

Hunter McDonald, the native Scot now living in Southfield, Mich., defeated a boyhood chum, Ian McCaskill of Scotland, 5 and 4.

McDonald won the first three holes against McCaskill and never was in danger. He sank a 26-footer for a birdie at the third hole and shot the outgoing nine in 37, one over par.

Bill Murray, a 24-year-old little known Scot, pulled the tournament's biggest upset when he ousted the defending champion, Michael Bonallack of England, 1 up.

Rains Wash Out Round of Buick Open

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — With the outdoors a soggy mess, card games, movies and just plain lounging around were the order of the day Thursday for 144 entries in the ninth annual $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

Rain, which completely washed out the Houston Open earlier this year and caused the loss of one round in seven other tournaments—the Warlick Hills course early in the day, prompting officials to call a halt.

The first round postponed, tournament officials said the final 36 holes would be played Sunday, with the first tee off slated for 6 a.m.

Most entrants telephoned the course Thursday and did not bother to report for midday or later starting times. A few, hoping to get some swings on practice tees or putting greens, were discouraged quickly by flooded conditions from the parking lot to the course itself.

It was the third time in the history of the Buick Open that a round had been postponed. In 1958, the second round was washed out after half the field had completed it and another 25 per cent had finished nine holes.

The principal casualty in that one was Arnold Palmer, who saw his 67 change to a 71 the next day.

Tony Lema, the defending champion, looking a third straight triumph here, saw a 67 wiped out in 1963 when the first round was canceled after 70 per cent of the field had finished.

Orioles Drop Solons, Take League Lead

BALTIMORE (AP) — The streaking Baltimore Orioles downed Washington 4-2 Thursday night on Boog Powell's two-run homer in the sixth inning after scoring an 8-7 victory in a suspended game with a four-run rally in the eighth and took over first place in the American League.

The Orioles, who have won 10 of their last 12, moved one game ahead of Cleveland, which had its game with New York rained out.

Dick Nen's homer, following Paul Casanova's double, gave Washington a 2-0 lead in the second inning of the regulation game.

Baltimore tied it 2-2 in the fourth on two walks and singles by Powell and Curt Blefary. Powell then hit his homer off loser Diego Segui with two out in the sixth.

Washington led 3-4 when play was resumed in the sixth inning of the suspended game which had been halted by a city curfew Wednesday night.

Fred Valentino, who had socked a two-run homer during a five-run Washington rally in the sixth inning, Wednesday, singled home another run in the eighth to make it 6-4.

But Baltimore tied it 6-6 on an infield single by Jerry Adair, a double by Camillo Carreon and a pinch single by Sam Bowens. Segui, later in the eighth, scored his second homer of the year off loser Dick Bosman. Don Lock homered for Washington in the ninth.

USTFF Refuses To Ask for AAU Sanction of Meet

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — The executive director of the U. S. Track and Field Federation said Thursday night that no application will be made to the AAU for sanction of the federation's fourth national meet here Friday and Saturday. Clifford Buck, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, threw a bombshell into preparations for the USTFF meet at Indiana State University by warning that if an AAU sanction was not obtained, all competing athletes would be ineligible for the national AAU outdoor meet in New York June 25-26.

Ryun Decides To Run in USTFF Meet

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — America's premier miler, freshman Jim Ryun of Kansas, will run his specialty here Saturday, thus saving a lot of face for the U. S. Track and Field Federation.

The federation's fourth national meet Friday and Saturday at Indiana State University was on the verge of considerable embarrassment when Ryun's coach, Bob Timmons, earlier this week indicated Ryun would skip the mile to concentrate on other events.

Yet, Ryun is scheduled to run the mile in the National AAU meet two weeks hence at Randall's Island in New York. The long standing AAU-NCAA feud for amateur athletic control was responsible for the revenge birth of the federation meet.

It eventually took federal intervention to induce the federation to shift its outdoor meet, originally scheduled the same weekend as the AAU meet June 24-25, to this weekend.

The field at this weekend's meet includes 300 men competing in 20 events and 36 women entered in nine events.

The main attraction is the 10-year-old Ryun, whose 3:53.7 mile at Compton, Calif., last weekend, missed the world record by only one-tenth of a second.

Cash's three-run homer in the fourth and Demeter's two-run shot in the sixth highlighted the Tiger offense that was aided by 10 bases on balls off five Boston pitchers.

Freehan connected with the bases empty in the eighth for a total of 42 minutes as rain fell during most of the chilly afternoon.

Wisconsin Court Reserves Its Decision on Braves Until July

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court reserved decision Thursday in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball after the justices raised frequent questions about the key point in the state's case against the game. A decision by the seven-man court on whether the Atlanta Braves must return to Milwaukee unless the National League agrees to give the city a 1967 expansion team is expected sometime in early July.

The justices questioned attorneys for both sides on whether the game is interstate or intrastate commerce. The major point is whether Wisconsin has authority to regulate movement of franchises.

Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, in directing the Braves to return to Milwaukee in the absence of expansion, ruled that the state did have the authority to regulate interstate commerce by last May 18 unless the National League agreed to expand.

His order was suspended pending a Supreme Court review of his findings.

Willard S. Stafford, the chief counsel for Wisconsin, said in his opening remarks Thursday that organized baseball had argued before the Supreme Court in 1953 that baseball was not engaged in interstate commerce, but that baseball was now basing its entire defense on the contention that it was.

Chief Justice George Currie interrupted Stafford by noting that in 1958 the Supreme Court held that it was up to Congress to pass laws governing baseball.

But how could Congress act, Judge Currie asked Stafford, "unless interstate commerce was involved."

Stafford replied, "The fact is that there has been no law passed, there is no legislation."

Bowle Kuhn, representing the National League, admitted that baseball once argued before the Supreme Court that it was involved in interstate commerce, but said "We were in error."

He denied a state contention that baseball was without any regulation at all, saying baseball regulated itself. At one point Kuhn referred to Judge Roller's order as directing baseball to "come in to Milwaukee" with a new team, Justice E. Harold Hallows interrupted, saying "Not come in. Come back."

Earlier, Earl Jinkelson, attorney for the Braves, criticized the Roller decision. He said a return to Milwaukee would be a "death sentence for the Braves."

The Braves were the first this season for the Cardinal infielders. Buckhit hit in the second after Mike Shannon singled off Fryman.

Gagliano got his in the sixth following Lou Brock's single. The Pirates protested that the blow curved foul before dropping into the right-field stands.

Al Jackson, winning his fifth game against four losses, scattered eight hits.
